The PRAXIS I exam is required to receive professional licensure for teacher certification and is created by the Educational Testing Service (ETS). Why Talk About Preference? If you are trying to get your ESL students to communicate more openly and creatively about themselves, you might consider having them talk about preference. The lesson examines types of narrative structure in fiction. We will learn about exposition, climax, denouement, and other plot elements, through examples from Lois Lowry's "The Giver" (1993). The ParaPro Assessment is a Praxis exam designed for practicing and prospective paraprofessionals in the field of education. The ParaPro Assessment measures test-takers' knowledge and skills in basic content areas, such as reading, writing, and mathematics. - Praxis Teaching Reading Secrets Study
